This Cookie Policy explains how Curcle Ltd (company number 17260381), a company registered in England & Wales and a wholly-owned subsidiary of Herridge Ventures ("Curcle", "we", "us"), uses cookies and similar technologies in the Curcle field-service management platform (the "Service"). It should be read together with our Privacy Policy.

1. What are cookies?

Cookies are small text files placed on your device when you visit a website or use a web application. They allow the application to recognise your device, keep you signed in, and operate securely. Similar technologies, such as browser local storage, may be used for the same purposes.

2. The cookies we use

Curcle is a private business tool that you log in to use. We use only the cookies that are strictly necessary to provide a secure, working Service. We do not use advertising cookies and we do not sell your data to advertisers.

Strictly necessary cookies

- Session cookie: keeps you securely signed in as you move between pages, and expires after a period of inactivity.
- Security (CSRF) cookie: protects against cross-site request forgery by verifying that requests genuinely come from you.

Local storage

The Service may use your browser's local storage to remember preferences (such as light or dark mode) and, where you use the app offline, to hold data temporarily on your device until it can be synchronised. This stays on your device and is not used for tracking.

3. Third-party cookies

Where you use optional features that rely on third parties — for example the in-app Google Maps view or Stripe-hosted payment pages — those providers may set their own cookies, governed by their respective privacy and cookie policies. We do not control these cookies.

4. Consent

Because the cookies we set are strictly necessary for the Service to function and to keep it secure, they do not require consent under UK law. We do not use non-essential tracking or advertising cookies that would require an opt-in.

5. Managing cookies

You can control and delete cookies through your browser settings. Please note that blocking the strictly necessary cookies described above will prevent you from logging in to and using the Service.

6. Changes to this policy

We may update this Cookie Policy from time to time. Material changes will be notified inside the app.

7. Contact
